4. Objective Measures - allow for comparison to a normative group

The objective measures add valuable information to your interpretation and are expressed in Q-scores and percentiles. The Q-Scores allow for comparison with the performance of an age and gender adjusted norm group. The percentile expresses (in percent) the probability of a normative person to score lower than the test person.

About the Rating Scale

The QbCheck Rating Scale adds a subjective perspective to the evaluation process. The scale is developed from the 18 questions in DSM-5, describing patterns of behavior associated with ADHD. Each behavior is rated over the last 6 months and graded as Never/Rarely, Sometimes, Often and Very often.

Children, 6-17 years, must present Often or Very Often on at least six behaviors in one or both categories to display ADHD-like symptoms according to the DSM-5 criteria. Test takers 18 years and older must present with at least five items rated Often or Very Often in one or both categories, in order to display ADHD-like symptoms according to the DSM-5 criteria.

Rating Scale Results

This test taker has 9 items in the Inattentive category and 6 items in the Hyperactive/Impulsive category that are rated as Often or Very Often. The test taker thus meets the criteria for displaying ADHD-like symptoms according to DSM-5.
